Into The 90s

Rhyme @ Rhythm

Into the nineties
With rhythm and rhyme,
Sharing the spirit
Never minding the time,
Manchester Lancers
United as one;
They pridefully prepared
For all to come.
Conquest and victory
Both were shared,
While charitable hearts
Not a dime did spare.
"Through our tears and fears,
Through our joy and fame,
The future will come
And we will make our name."

DOING IT LANCER STYLE

Rhyme & Rhythm

Unique in our style,
Apart from the rest,
Manchester Lancers
Know they're simply the best.
Eric and Erika,
Homecoming king and queen,
O'erlook their realm in October,
More spirit ne'er can be seen.
Opposites attract,
As shown in a Powder Puff pawn.
Couples trip the light fantastic
As they dance their way through Prom.
And yet it approaches,
The end of the year;
Memories are evoked
At graduation, with a tear.

DRESSED TO KILL

"Attention all you crazy shoppers!!!" The Lancers show off their styles this year. Anywhere from the preps to the skateboards making a statement with their clothes. The trend for this year for the guys has been the Jordan Nikes and the skits or Bobby Brown pants (baggy pants). The girls, on the other hand, have gotten back to the bell bottoms (wide bottom pants). The stores such as the Limited, Limited Express, and the Gap have caught the girls' attention while the guys have been shopping at Oaktree (one of the latest stores at Cloverleaf Mall), Riggins, Wilson, and the classical Britches. One of our favorite cartoon characters, Bart Simpson, has even become the Lancers' most popular, casual style. For the summertime, the neon colors have caught everyone's eye. Tie-dyes are still popular and the traditional jeans are still in style, expecially for those rainy days! The designs on the clothing have been loud with pin stripes, plaids, and definitely polka-dots. Manchester High school has never been so bright with colors and exploded with so many different styles.

STILL OF THE NIGHT

It was that time again for the students to add the last minute touches on their floats and get ready for Homecoming. The Sophomore Class continue the tradition by winning the float contest. As for the clubs, S.A.D.D. wins the blue ribbon after many consuming hours of all work and no play. The Lancer football team lost a tough game, seven to nothing, against a powerful Prince George. At the game, the Lancers showed plenty of spirit anywhere from the freshmen to the seniors.

The annual crowning of the homecoming king and queen was done during halftime. While the presence of not only the homecoming court but also their parents arrived, brought forth the exciting moment of crowning the king and queen. Last year's king, Greg Mahan, and queen, Kristen Mancini, resigned their titles to their new successors. Even though last year's king was not present, the resigning queen crowned Erica Nelmes as the new queen and Eric Borges as the new king. And on to the dance . . .

Homecoming Rhythm

The excitement of the night arrived! The Lancers lost the game against Prince George, but they managed to play a tough defense. Nevertheless the Homecoming dance was a success. This years theme, "In the Still of the Night", seemed to have brought the couples closer together. As usual the presenting of the Homecoming court started the evening off.

The night's event would not have been possible without the time and effort of the S.C.A. staff. That Saturday morning they turned the plain cafeteria into an elaborate dance floor. Thanks to Andy Woodfin we had a fabulous band, while everyone looked stunning in their beautiful gowns and stylish suits. The new king and queen, Eric Borges and Erika Nelms, started the night with the first slow song. The night went smoothly and the student body deeply enjoyed the dance more and more as the night continued. Senior Erika Nelms reflected, "The experience was one I'll always treasure!"

The happiest day in Eric Borges's and Erika Nelms's life!

Puff On To Victory

It became that time of year again when the Junior and Senior girls were to begin their battle to see who truly deserves the title of being number one . . . the Powderpuff game. The Juniors kept their defensive play laborious for the Seniors. But as in the past couple of years the Senior team finally won with the winning touchdown being made by Michelle Barrett leaving the score at 7-0, which remained as the only touchdown for the rest of the tournament.

The fabulous cheering of the Powderpuff cheerleaders enabled the spectators and the teams to enjoy the game to its utmost limit! Jeff Biringer, being crowned King Puff, truly made his, or should it be said her, evening. All of the cheerleaders were a huge success at making the crowd energetic with their outrageous routines. At one point the Seniors revealed what was hidden under their designer skirts, and it was a message that read "CUTE"!

Those wild and crazy gals managed once again to make the Powderpuff game complete. But most of all with a fantastic effort from both sides of the teams, the Juniors are almost guaranteed victory next year as Seniors.

SENIORS

The fans at Manchester's student/ faculty basketball game were kept entertained as Mr. Munroe's son had two consecutive slam dunks. Look out Yuri. This was not the only excitement to this rather unusual event. Great humor could be found through the inexperienced playing attempts of both students and faculty. Throughout the game the seniors were struggling to keep up with the "years" of experience of the coaches, and the coaches trying to keep up with the youth and energy of the seniors. In the end if all balanced out as the seniors, with a mere four seconds on the clock, took the victory basket to win the game by the small margin of one point. For those of you who were there, no comment needs to be made on how this basket was scored. I'll just say "Congratulations," to Kim Pope, and "Thank You" to Coach Smith. I would like to say, to the seniors, "Great game," and, to the faculty, "Nice try, maybe next year!" When, by the way, Yuri will be a Senior.

For the first time in history, Manchester sponsored an After-Prom-Party which turned out to be a huge success. The cafeteria of Manchester was transformed into a mini-casino and café while the gym was decorated as a huge dance hall complete with tables and statues. Prom-goers had the opportunity to spend play money and risk high stakes! Some found that Lady Luck was definitely not with them; they invested the rest of their money on raffle tickets. Prizes included a mini-television, coolers, a small sized refrigerator along with other great items. The gym was also the scene for great music and dancing! Free food and drinks were also available so that everyone found something to do!

A Touch of Class

The night of April 28 was filled with much anticipation as many Lancers got ready for the 1990 Junior/Senior Prom at the Richmond Center. Much work went into preparing the Center with flowers, balloons, and other ornate decorations, transforming the Center into a dreamy haven. Couples began arriving around 8 o'clock after having eaten dinner at such stylish restaurants as The Berkley Hotel, The Tobacco Co. Restaurant, and The Chardonnay. Upon arriving at the dance, most couples went off to have their pictures taken so that they could capture that special night forever. Afterwards, they started to dance the night away to the riveting tunes of Casper. At precisely 9 o'clock, the Prom Figure, in which many outstanding Juniors and Seniors participated, began. They formed the traditional "M," heart, and "90" in honor of the graduating class. Soon afterwards, the highlight of the evening came as Matt Nunnally and Kristen Harper were crowned King and Queen.

For everyone, the 1990 Prom was truly a memorable event and enjoyed by all. Even after the tuxedos and evening gowns were laid aside, the memories lingered on, pleasantly laced with "a touch of class."

ALMOST THERE

Continuing the long-standing tradition, students and faculty convened in the gymnasium for the SCA Assembly. Awards were presented to various Lancers for outstanding achievements in community, academic, and extracurricular activities. Following this, the Academic and Monogram letters and stars were handed out to those students earning them, and the new class and SCA officers were installed by their predecessors. Scholarships would be announced later, but it could be sensed who the recipients would be and who the award-winners for the classes of '91, '92, and '93 would be by the number of times they appeared before the student body on this day. Not only were young Manchester scholars honored, but outstanding members of the community, custodial staff, and faculty were also recognized. However, the greatest appreciation was shown to the administrators through their more than slightly humorous gifts.

As the end of the year approached, Senior activities stepped to the forefront of the Manchester calendar. Underclassmen and Juniors, anxiously awaiting the moment they would rush to the coveted positions near the stage, gathered in the gymnasium to honor their graduating friends. During the longest Senior assembly in at least four years, over $130,000 was amassed; additionally, numerous awards were won by various members of the Class of 1990, including the Outstanding Graduate award received by Megan Lamb. Following the ceremony, Seniors checked out of school and into the nearest party or onto the closest beach, while Juniors could only pretend to bask in the sun at the James while fighting insects in the Senior courtyard.

FACULTY FRENZY

Manchester not only has outstanding and talented students, but the faculty shines brightly also. Quite a few teachers were spotlighted this year for various achievements. Mr. Smith, Mr. Swelnis, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Flory, and Mrs. Howard were just a few of many commended for a job well done.

Students often forget that the faculty and administrators have lives outside of the Lancer corridors. Mr. Tylus was visited by the stork on March 14th of this year with a beautiful little girl. Mrs. Bass took on a new title . . . Grandma!

Mr. Cox survived his first round in the Virginia General Assembly. Mr. Frier became adjusted to a new school while he and his wife moved to a new home. Mrs. League went from mathematics to discipline with her duty as an administrator. She now deals with hall passes, not passing up your homework.

Once again the faculty and administrators of Manchester proved to be beyond excellence. The principals and teachers strive to teach and learn along with the students of MHS. Congratulations on a job well done!!!

NUESTROS TRES AMIGOS
UNSERE DREI FREUNDE

Along with the flood of curious and timid freshmen, a trio of visitors were among our midst this year at Manchester. These three newcomers are Dinorah Cortinas, Alicia Felici, and Christoph Tomforde. Dinorah is from Monterrey, Mexico. To help her feel more comfortable and to derive the most from her stay, she performed with the musical group Capital Swing. Alicia is from Valencia, Spain. At home she attends a private school in which the structure and requirements of the classes are much more rigid than those she came in contact with in the United States. Alicia was also pleasantly surprised by the number of extracurricular activities available to students for in her homeland, there are few such activities offered. Christoph hails from Hamburg, West Germany. He has become involved with a variety of things including the tennis team. He is the number three singles player and is a part of the number two doubles team. Christoph was surprised at the diversity of MHS athletics because in West Germany, athletes play in organizational teams for the entire year. Besides the common factor of being visitors in an exotic land, there are other characteristics shared by this trio. They all arrived in America with preconceived notions of Americans and their way of life. It was a startling discovery that all Americans do not eat at McDonalds and that all U.S. men are not surfers. Together through interactions, we can all learn to accept and welcome varied cultures to aid us in broadening our horizons.

SMOOTH TALKING

The Debate and Forensics teams had an incredibly successful year. Coached by Mrs. Judy Dorazio, both of these Manchester teams truly glowed in the academic spotlight. The Debate team's topic for the year was the overcrowding of federal jails and prisons. With such expert debators as Ricky Wood and George Townsend, who both earned a spot in the state level of competition, Manchester forged its way onward to excellence. Manchester students are not afraid to speak their minds! Yet, if one desires to learn the art and skills needed to speak comfortably in front of a group, Speech may be a class worth taking. Manchester offers both a Speech I and a Speech II class. The Speech I class is basically a nuts and bolts foundation course in which one learns the basic mannerisms and behaviors of a well-rounded public speaker. Along with the Debate team, Manchester also possesses a very competitive and talented Forensics team. Team members Peter Smith, Jessica Maerz, and Matt Bailey won awards in their respective divisions. All in all this year has been a year in which the speaking talents and capabilities of MHS students have ruled!

MHS = Math + Science

The Math Department, once again, held the Virginia Math League Contests. A large number of Manchester students appeared on the scene to dazzle teachers and others with their knowledge.

The Science Department, MHS students and faculty were pleased to welcome this year a new physics teacher, Mr. Frier. He showed students the important and interesting aspects of science with pulley carts and lectures on friction. The Manchester Science Club remained active with regular meetings, field trips, and other exciting events.

MHS PARLIAMENT

Manchester students experience government at its finest again this year. Model UN brought together some of the brightest and most respected students to delve into the experience of international relations.

MHS also received the privilege of seeing the Virginia Assembly in model form during Mr. Cox's classes. Students wrote, presented, and passed bills during this project, and one "delegate" described the Mock General Assembly as "endless amounts of work, but I learned a lot about our state legislature. All the parliamentary procedures and rules make more sense and seem much more interesting."

Roger, this is a government class, not "The Dating Game."

Quest for the Best

Manchester students had the opportunity of a lifetime to appear on T.V. by participating on the prestigious "Battle of the Brains" show. To obtain admission to this prestigious organization, interested participants were required to pass a taxing one hundred question test. Thus, only Manchester's best and brightest were chosen. This year's Battle of the Brains team included: John Yang, Andy Woodfin, Brian Vandenbroek, Megan Lamb, and Joe Snodgrass, who also served as captain. The team's session was virtually short-lived, due to a narrow defeat by St. Christopher's. The sponsor, Mrs. Raghu, helped prepare the team with the use of Trivial Pursuit questions to keep their minds limber. All in all, Manchester's quest of the best ended up quite successful.

The school year of 1989-90 was a great academic challenge to Manchester students. One of the quick thinking extracurricular activities offered to students was Academic Trivia. In its third year, Academic Trivia was thought of by all participants to be a delightful challenge. Competition between the ten teams was heated. Moderation, which was done by various faculty members, often required split second decisions to be made. Each team was composed of four or five members representing one of four grade levels to ensure a wide range of knowledge. After numerous rounds of vigorous competition, one team was declared the winner. The winning team consisted of: Kevin Walton, Duane Arruti, Mark Patel, Kate Hinson, and Susie Kwok. Needless to say, this is an achievement to be held in high regard.

SITTING STILL

Once again the Class of '90 chose twelve outgoing seniors to comprise the Homecoming Court. Eric Borges, Mark Briley, Ricky Wood, Timmy Blake, Brent Bell, and Herbie Evans were picked to represent the senior class, while Mary Kathryn Chester, Erika Nelms, Megan Lamb, Shannon Hatcher, Jennifer Steele, and Elsa Jimenez were chosen as princesses. All eyes were anxiously watching this royal gathering as Eric and Erica were crowned King and Queen of the court by their peers.

All in attendance of the game noted the never ending excitement and enthusiasm expressed by the Seniors. In fact, the Seniors were awarded the Spirit Award at halftime for their surging level of spirit. The class of '90 definitely left its mark on the Homecoming of 1989.

What a royal line-up!
Don't do it Aaron!

MIXED-UP MADNESS

What is this world coming to? Well, on one starlit night at Lancer Stadium, that's just what everyone was saying. There were girls decked out in the fieldhouse's best, while boys pranced in their mother's best; all just to participate in the annual Powderpuff Game. The Seniors came through with a win of six to nothing tanks to the great running of Michele Barrett. The victory hinted of revenge because of the Junior loss last year, thirty-two to nothing. On the other hand, some say that the men stole the show. Some were quite overstuffed as our Senior cheerleaders showed off their farcical apparel. Others were looking very handsome like our first King Puff, Jeff Biringer. Overall the night was a bit confusing, but a great success!

SCORE! Seniors get victory over Juniors with Michelle Barrett's touchdown.

"Hey, listen! I've got a plan," says Herbie Evans to our all-knowing Seniors.

Hooking-Up

Every married couple knows the trials and tribulations that come hand in hand with the preparation of a wedding. Manchester's Family Management Skill classes, taught by Mrs. Sidoti and Mrs. Tortorella, will be ready for this experience when the time comes. Each year as a tradition at Manchester, the students participate in mock weddings. The planning began by dividing the students of each class into separate committees. These included committees on food, music, decorations, invitations, photographs, and flowers. By working on these groups, students learned that a great amount of planning goes into preparing a wedding.

This year five mock weddings took place in the library. The couples were Michele Barrett and Greg Barnett, Amy Smith and Bob Lockhardt, Kim Atkins and Robert Grubb, Stacy Carper and Trent Fontenot, and Melissa Kloss and Troy Minnick. Just as in the case of almost all weddings, Manchester's brides and grooms were faced with the jitters. All of the students were excited, and they anxiously awaited the big day where they would participate in a serious, yet fun, event that would teach them much about life.

"Hurry up Bob, we're hungry!"

"You're missing my mouth, darling," says Stacy Carper as Trent Fontenot tries to feed his new wife.

"How many more pictures?" ask Melissa Kloss and Troy Minnick.

Going, Going, GOWN

As always, the Seniors took time out of their English classes to order their caps and gowns. This was the moment that they had been waiting for, one of the first of many steps toward graduation. When their orders came in, they were more than ready for them. They lined up in the cafeteria anxiously awaiting to receive those items that seemed to assure them that they would be graduating soon. As that time drew near, more and more senior activities began to take place, including the Senior class picture. It was during this event that they decided that they would be willing to graduate without their caps, which felt like mountains on top of their heads that slid backward with every move that was made. Realizing that they would have to wear their caps to graduation, they quickly began to devise ways to keep their caps on their heads so they could easily walk across the stage and receive their diplomas, the final step. They had graduated.

The Magical Mystery Tour

June 1st was a special day for seniors. Not only did they receive praise for all of their hard work during the morning assembly, but that night they were able to celebrate together at the Senior Banquet. This was the last meal that the seniors would all eat together as a class and it was a very memorable evening. Entertainment was provided by Chris Clarke's band, "Sober People," a skit by Peter Smith, and singing by Jennifer Steele, Erika Nelms, Michelle Hiatt, and Claudia Turner. After a hearty meal the seniors embarked on a "Magical Mystery Tour." Voices from the past of such outstanding teachers as Mrs. Walmsley, Mr. Cox, Mrs. Easton, Mr. Storino, Mr. Geary, and Mr. Tylus reminisced about the journey of the seniors through high school. Everyone enjoyed hearing these teachers tell of their most memorable events of the Class of '90. After the tour, superlatives were awarded to 36 memorable seniors.

Everyone agreed that the night went by too fast as the banquet came to a close and as one girl was leaving I heard her remark, "I'll miss all of these people next year."

The Junior Marshals cannot wait to be on the other side of this table.

The crowd was silenced by the beautiful voices of the trio.

The doorway to the rest of our lives.

"Sober People" provide the mealtime entertainment.

June 13. The day that all Seniors had been waiting for, the day that they officially graduated. As the processional began, their hearts lifted knowing that the end was not far off now. The journey that had taken 13 years was finally coming to a close. All the hard work was paying off; they were going to walk across the stage and receive their diplomas. Before that final walk took place, they listened to inspiring words from Mr. Tylus. Then it happened; their names were called and they walked across the stage and received their diplomas. They had done it. They had officially graduated. The ceremony ended with the tossing of hats and an old Irish prayer that went like this . . .

May the road rise up and meet you
May the wind be always at your back
And may the Lord hold you in the hollow of his hand.

"Head of the Class"

Once again, the elected officials of the Class of '91 took command of their responsibilities and led the Junior Class through another fantastic year. Matt Robertson (President) and Brian VandenBroek (Treasurer) returned to their posts, and Carolyn Atchison (Vice-President) and Matt Kensky (Secretary) were welcomed as the two newcomers. From candy sales to the Prom Planning Committee, these leaders went to all ends for their fellow classmates. As a result of their momentous efforts, the year was a rewarding success.

"The Turning Point"

Receiving class rings is truly an exciting event during one's Junior year. The Class of 1991 filed into the auditorium September 21 and anxiously waited for the ceremony to begin. The class officers were presented their rings first and they in turn gave out the rings to the rest of the class. Smiles lit up every junior's face as they raced around asking both friends and strangers to turn their rings. The ultimate goal was to have one's ring turned 91 times, a tradition that has been prevalent among juniors for many years. Rings also signify the "turning point" that starts a junior on his or her way towards graduation.

"Stars Shine Bright . . ."

Brandishing her sword from high above in the castle's tower, Janet Wheeler, our bold Lancer, cheered on Manchester's football team at the Homecoming game. Even though the junior float came in second place in the contest, the scene of our Lancer guarding his (her) castle and yelling, "Make the Royals Stand Still!" gets a first place for hilarity.

Princes Yuri Barnes and Cory Osterbind, accompanied by their princesses, Lilith Brown and Tracey Spivey, proudly adorned the Homecoming Court. All four students are very involved at Manchester. Tracey participates in Capital Swing while Lilith is active in the SCA. Yuri and Cory are both star athletes in MHS sports, Yuri being Varsity Basketball's star player and Cory being an essential member of the Varsity Soccer team. Truly, these four students well represented Manchester's finest achievers.

With a Little Help from my Friends . . .

On October 28, 1989, two rival teams faced off in the hard-fought battle of the century. The pugnacious juniors made play after play, while the Seniors fumbled and fouled throughout the game. The annual Powderpuff Tournament had turned into a bellicose competition to see which class could outdo the other.

With the help of the almighty boisterous cheerleaders, the Junior team displayed their skill and expertise. In fact, they outmaneuvered the seniors throughout the majority of the game, until the seniors finagled their way to a seven point victory.

Sophomores

Crazy and wild is the sophomore soul,
getting down to that rock n' roll
then hurry to class, don't be late or the detention pad will seal your fate

It's 7 a.m. and you're not yet awake,
You remember The Test and your heart starts to quake.
Has she no mercy, any compassion at all?
What will your parents think if your grades start to fall?

In driver's ed. they may make fun of your driving
But you reach the destination for which you've been striving
You arrive in one piece and basically sound of mind
Your parents regret the permit that they signed.

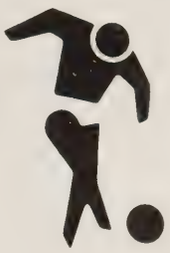
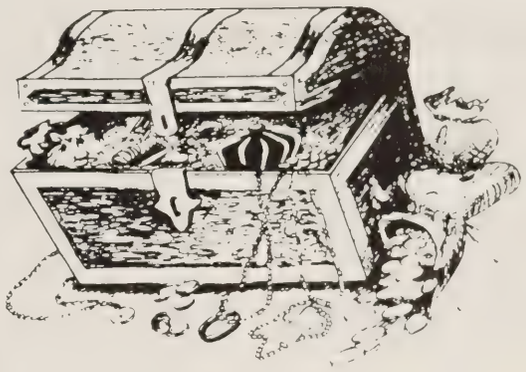
Extraordinary Officers

Since the very beginning of the school year the sophomore officers have worked extremely hard. These diligent officers are: John Foster (president), Stephanie Goode (vice president), Beth Lindsey (secretary), and Jenny Lam (treasurer). Their first major task of the year was the Homecoming float, which won first place!

The very successful fund raiser of the frigid winter was selling warm Florida fruit. Fruit sales added a needed $2000 to the sophomore treasury.

Not only did these officers help raise money, they also adopted a family during the holiday season. This was a successful project. Way to go sophomore officers!





"In the still of the night" sophomores show they've got rhythm.

Simply The Best

"In the Still of the Night," Manchester's football team played a tough game against Prince George. Homecoming is not just for football but also a time to display floats. The hard work put forth by the sophomore class paid off when the float took 1st place. Homecoming is also the time when the elected princesses and princes get to walk the "royal path." The two princesses voted by the Sophomore Class were Kelly Englisby and Shannon Nelms. The lucky princes were Brian Crocker and Antony Elliot.

BORN TO BE WILD!!!

I feel truly wonderful! I have just been inspected, and I am safe like always! I just had a bath a half hour ago so, I am nice and sleek. I wonder where I am to take them today . . . Wait! Who is that I see with my keys? The child?! I wonder why the child has my keys. He is getting into the wrong seat. What?! He is going to drive me? No way, José! Ain't no way I'm going to cooperate. Oh well, I guess I have no choice since he has already started me up.

Here we go on the road. We are going way too fast! Oh Gosh! I hope I survive. PLEASE go slower! I hate the way children always feel they have control over me. They are just trying to show off. Why does he have to drive me? What's wrong with the bicycle?

Whew! We made it home safely. It really was not that bad, but I would never want to do it again.

Tales of a Sophomore: Pleasures and Decisions

Being a sophomore does not seem any different from being a freshman except you have more privileges. As sophomores, we all look forward to the last year of physical education. Also there is the prerogative of driving. We cannot wait to take "behind the wheel" and get our license. It is the freedom to go anywhere without our parents tagging along. There is one more important privilege we sophomores have, ordering rings.

But, being a sophomore does not always mean fun and games. The older we get the harder the schoolwork becomes. There is more homework and more studying. You are left with an important decision: COLLEGE. Am I going? Where would I like to go? These questions and many more pop in your head along the way. We should not become discouraged because the fun has just begun, and next year we will be juniors. That means more things to look forward to and more hard work.

FRESHMEN THROUGH THE HALLS

Sometimes, I hardly know
Where I wonder, to and fro
Down this hall, I'm sure to go

Wait a minute, I've been here yet
Just let me say, before I fret
I've got directions I need to get.

I'm lost, but I don't care
The problem's not the getting there,
But the confusion that I cannot bear.

But now it's easy, roaming here
The halls to which I think so dear
But, please, not another year!!!

THE FIRST FOUR: Freshmen Class Officers

This year, the Freshmen Class is headed by Crystal Haynes. She is accompanied by Nicole Kimbrough (Vice-President), Carly Lovell (Treasurer), and Stephanie Neubert (Secretary). This group of hard working young ladies has already started making plans to raise money for the Class of 1993's Prom. They were also involved in several canned food drives, candy sales, and other events that helped build freshman pride and spirit.

EMBARRASSING?

My most embarrassing moment was . . .

Once when I was running in gym, someone came behind me and pulled my pants down.

I went into the cafeteria on the second day of school during third period and the ladies actually served me my lunch.

I forgot my locker combination and had to go to Mr. Johnson to get it and he laughed at me.

I fell down the steps and right on top of a senior! I could have died! I was so embarrassed. I went home early.

When I was in gym and I had on jogging pants, I was stretching. They split all the way up the back.

I was having baseball try-outs, and we were in the outfield. I went to catch a fly ball and did not pay attention to the fence. I ran into it!

I was at a wedding. The ceremony was over, and the bride was getting ready to throw the wedding bouquet. The bride threw the bouquet backwards and it came straight at me. My natural reflexes made me catch it. (This was a guy!)

It was the first day of school, and I got lost and couldn't get out of the school. I was running around and asking people, and they all laughed.

It was the first day of school and I missed the bus. I was standing in the middle of the road with my books until this guy came driving along in a car, and gave me a ride to school.

I was going down the hall and I went into the boys' bathroom instead of the girls.' When I came out, a principal was standing right there and said, "I'm not even going to ask."

My friend and I were walking down the hall when we saw a really cute guy. I yelled, "Hey babe!" and every single guy turned around and yelled it back.

Night Watch . . .

— I got up in my sleep, walked down the hall and into the bathroom. I then got into the bathtub and turned on the water. I took a bath in my clothes!!
— I won a game of go fish against my mother, but I was asleep!
— I knew nothing about dinosaurs. Well, late at night, I was propped up on my elbows, and told my mother all about them.
— Sometime during the middle of the night, I took my headgear off and put it on my desk.
— I got up and let the dog out.

In My Sleep . . .

— I got up and went into the living room, but I thought I was in the bathroom.
— I got up and got ready for school. Funny thing was, it was 3:30 in the morning . . .
— I yelled, really loud, "I hate green beans."
— I had a conversation with my mother about the advantages of fish.
— I got up and went out the front door. I had turned the porch light on and left the front door open. My parents thought there had been a burglar.

Hangin' Tough in the Still of the Night.

On Friday the 13th, the most superstitious day of the year, our homecoming festivities began. It was a warm October night, and no one was worried about black cats, ladders, or broken mirrors. We just wondered if it was going to be a lucky game for the Lancers.

At 7:00, the excitement began. A grand parade kicked off the celebration. Then the game against the Prince George Royals got started. The Freshmen Homecoming Court was announced at halftime. Kevin Flores and Scott Painter were the handsome princes, and Nicole Kimbrough and Carly Lovell were the beautiful princesses. Although we lost the game, it didn't stop our spirit. Everyone was cheerful and had a great time.

Freshmen Princess Nicole Kimbrough and Prince Kevin Flores wave to the crowd.

Scott Painter and Carly Lovell smile at the crowd.

Teacher of The Year

Always generous with his time, Teacher of the year, Ron Gunter takes time out to answer a question.

The recipient of this year's Teacher of the Year Award is Ron Gunter. This award is well deserved. Mr. Gunter was and still is a key organizer of Academic Trivia, which has taken a foothold in the curriculum at Manchester. Mr. Gunter is also crucial in the running of the Virginia Math League Contest. In addition to these responsibilities, he seems to be the only one that knows how to run the microphones for the show choirs.

Mr. Gunter believes: "the real joy of teaching begins only when you can have a relationship with your students outside of the classroom." This was not only said, but acted upon as well. Our Teacher of the Year has only one basic philosophy to teaching: "You do what you can for your kids. After all, that's what you are here for."

Freshman Again

Mr. Cox and his students with a pile of coats for the homeless.

Manchester's own version of Richard Nixon!

Delegate Kirk Cox speaking on the floor of the General Assembly.

Mr. Cox soliciting help from fellow teachers.

Kirk Cox is a freshman once again. However, it was not as easy to get into this school. Kirk Cox, a well-known government teacher here at Manchester, threw his hat into the political arena this past year. He was up against an eight year incumbent. Any government teacher would have told you he was a long shot, but dozens of students and friends of the faculty donated thousands of hours. Despite the odds, this proved to be the extra edge he needed to oust the incumbent.

Mr. Cox now represents the 66th district in the House of Delegates. In addition to being a freshman delegate, Mr. Cox is an excellent teacher as well. "He actually makes government seem likeable and enjoyable for two semesters," says one student. Mr. Cox also urges his students in school fund-raisers. His classes always receives first place without extra credit or any other incentive. His contributions to the school and to the community are greatly appreciated.

From Autumn to Spring
We took the field,
The track, court, or green,
And the fans did cheer.
Over the goal line,
On to the finish,
For Lancer athletics
Our team spirit was winning.
Field hockey girls,
As usual, did dominate;
And our boys' basketball team
Later went on to State.
In all of our sports
We show great Lancer pride
And the undying spirit
Of going against the tide.

It was a smashing season for both the boys' and girls' tennis teams. Both teams won their district easily and went on to the Regionals. Strong players on these teams led their team to victory. For the girls, it was Jackie Campbell who received the Most Valuable Player award. Brent Bell also MVP, and Jeff Campbell were the leaders for the boys. Along with all these talented players, the boys' team was blessed with a wonderful German foreign exchange student, Christoph Tomforde. He played number three player in the tennis matches and was a formidable opponent. Christoph received the Coach's Award for all his hard work. These two teams deserve their great success because of their dedication to the game and all their hard work. Congratulations and good luck in the future!

Team Spirit

The Lancers had a truly eventful season this year. Despite their record, the Lancers proved to be number one in spirit. Matt Nunnally made the First Team All District while Scott Bass and Matt Robertson made the Second Team All District. Honorable Mention was received by Jon Ferguson. Jon Ferguson is very optimistic about next season, "With a lot of Juniors returning and a good JV team coming up, we should have an improved team next year." Victor Hoerst remarked, "Although our record was 0-10, we were not losers. We stuck together and never gave up." Seniors Scott Bass and Matt Nannally were chosen as MVP's. Jon Ferguson captured the Best Offense Award while Glen Lyons won the Best Defense Award. Finally, Victor Hoerst was awarded the Coach's Award.

The JV Football Team had a wonderful season ending up with an Overall Record of 5-4. They were second in the District. Due to great talent, team devotion, and cooperation the JV team was able to have a successful season, along with team spirit. The 1989-90 Lancer Football Teams were very persistent and they always had great team unity along with outstanding spirit.

Led by Jeff Jones, the boys' team went undefeated with all seven runners placing in the top fifteen. The Lancers swept through the District Meet and went on to Regionals. They placed third becoming the first team in Manchester history to compete in the AAA State Meet. The Lady Lancers were District Meet champions with All District performances by Rose Roe, Sarah Teets, and Bridgette Westbrook. Rose Roe and Sarah Teets went on to represent Manchester in the State Meet. This year's Most Valuable Players were Jeff Jones and Rose Roe. Most Improved were Jarrett Steer and Sarah Teets. Against The Wind

The 1990 Track season was a period of development. With only four seniors returning this year, the team was very young and inexperienced. What the 1990 Lancers and Lady Lancers lacked in experience, they made up for with enthusiasm and discipline. Coach Sours added, "This is the most motivated group that I have ever coached." The athletes were challenged to push themselves to the limit and then one step beyond. Both the Lady Lancers and Lancers had a successful season. The Lady Lancers went undefeated with a record of 7-0 winning the regular season and the district meet. The Lancers obtained a respectable regular season record of 3-4. Both teams had many athletes represented at the Regional Meet. At the meet, five athletes placed in the top six which qualified them for the State Meet in Newport News. These five individuals were Miranda Brown, Nicole Kimbrough, Rose Roe, Sara Teets, and Jeff Jones. Duane Arrutti summed it up when he said, "None of us really like track, but we try to have fun anyway!"

Racing to the finish, Lisa Ligon gives it her all.

Team Cooperation

Team spirit and cooperation was evident throughout the golf season. Though the team lost seven district matches, they still worked together and tried their hardest. Jimmy Alley and Jeff Campbell were named the Most Valuable Players of this year's team and Robert Grubb received the Coach's Award.

The team's season ended with a 5-7 district record and an overall record of 6-14. They practiced daily, gave it their all at every match, and ended up finishing fifth in the district. The underclassmen team members look forward to yet a better season next year.

Team members receive advice from Coach Smith.

A Year of Rebuilding

Jennifer Cira passes over an opponent.

This year's girls' basketball team had only three returning players: Racquel Carter, Denise Pasquantino, and Tonya Tatum. It took a lot of time and hard work for this young team to get to know each other. Once this was accomplished their level of play soared. Although they had only four regular season wins, the majority of the games were within five points ending up with a record of 4-18. The team's biggest victory came in the first round of the Central District tournament when they beat the number one ranked Prince George. The Varsity team did have a player place on the District and Regional Teams, Racquel Carter.

The J.V. team was a reflection of the varsity team. They worked hard and concluded their season by beating highly ranked Dinwiddie. Coach Gilbert has prepared many prospective players for next year's varsity squad. In every game both girls' basketball teams gave their full effort. The future looks bright for the team!

Victorious

When practice began for the boys' Varsity basketball team, so did a lot of publicity. There was a lot of talk about the talented and fresh team that was to dominate the season. After the first ten consecutive wins, the Lancers had proved that it was more than just stipulation; and consequently, their talent took them to the State Tournament.

Junior Yuri Barnes and Senior Rendell Miller led the team in both scoring and rebounds. Their talent enabled them to receive an endless amount of honors. Seniors Mark Briley and Brent Bell also helped the team to advance their record to 20-7. These four players helped to lead the team to the State Tournament.

Yuri Barnes and Rendell Miller shared the Most Valuable Player award, while Dietric Graves received the Hustle award. Brent Bell received the Coach's award and summed up the team's performance by saying, "We had a few ups and downs during this year, but I think that because we came together as a team, we were able to reach our goals."

GOALS

The Manchester Lancer baseball team finished their regular season with a 7-11 record. They were unable to reach their goal of .500, but did improve on last year's record. Timmy Blake, a fine center fielder for the Lancers, was selected Honorable Mention in the District as well as the All-Academic team. Timmy was also awarded the Most Improved award. Also receiving Honorable Mention was James Murphy along with the Coach's Award. Eric Borges nearly hit .500; thus placing him on the Second Team All-District. Eric also received the Highest Batting Average award. Coach Hall awarded the Fielding award to Paul Jenkins. As Jason Hintermeister concludes, "We had some good individual performances, but I'd like to think that we had 15 average players, no more, no less."

The J.V. baseball team also had a tough season. They ended their season with a record of 5-12. Ending with that record, they placed a strong fifth in the District. Scott Warden received the Most Improved Player because of great playing. Way to go Guys!!

SPIRIT!!

It was a rebuilding year for the Varsity softball team. With only two returning Varsity players this year, the team had to learn how to work together and how to be a team. It was tough at the beginning, but at the end of the season, the team was beating highly ranked teams. Some players were placed on the District teams because of their excellent playing. Heather Valenti made the Second Team All-District for her second base playing. The pitcher Michelle Call and outfielder Marcia Peterson received Honorable Mention. All three of these players made the All-Academic Team. Also receiving an award was Kim Atkins who received the Coach's Award. Michelle Call received MVP while Marcia Peterson received the Most Improved Player award. Even though the games always did not go the right way, the team never lost its pride and spirit!

The J.V. softball team also had a successful season. They finished with a record of 11-6 and placed second in the district. Throughout the season, the J.V. team never gave up and kept screaming until they had won. The spirit shined through in this team which gave them the power to win. There were many outstanding players on this team. Kara Arceneaux received the Coach's Award. Tanya Vance, an outstanding first year pitcher, and Leigh Ann Blake were recognized by their coach. Way to go!!

AGAIN!

Yet again, the soccer teams triumphed and claimed the number one spot in the district. The boys' team finished their season with a record of 14-3-1; the girls' team ended with a 15-3 record, defeating Monacan for the first time. Because these teams were so talented, many players placed on the District and Regional teams. On First Team All-Region was Latarnya Butts, Cynthia Goode, Michele Barrett, Monique Povedano, Nikki Mashack, Chad Labott, Dario Arevalo, Mike Mongiello, and Andrew Parks! The Second Team All-District honor was received by Cory Osterbind, Jon Houck, Susan Matthews, and Cindy Zier. Traci Brink, Bridget Schaefer, Stephanie Goode, Steve Janucik, Demus Oxford, Brian Fand, and Ron Becker were recognized with Honorable Mention. Some players did continue on to the regional teams. They were First Team: Latarnya Butts, Michele Barrett, Chad Labott, and Dario Arevalo; Second Team: Monique Povedano and Cynthia Goode; Honorable Mention: Mike Mongiello, Andrew Parks, Susan Matthews, and Nikki Mashack. From there it was to the State teams where Chad and Dario were recognized. Wow, What a Season!

This year a new girls' J.V. team popped up. The team had to learn how to work together and how to be a team. Each game they gave it their all and never gave up. They ended up with a District record of 3-1 and an overall record of 3-6. Congratulations!

Great Job!

"Coach Tylus and I thought that the wrestlers would have trouble making 500 this year. They really worked hard and exceeded our expectations," commented Coach Monroe. A 10-8 record, with a winning streak of six matches proved the mat mens' worth. Captains Tommy Brown and Brent Herndon led the Lancers to a record season. The team took 11 wrestlers to Regionals and placed third in the District as a team. In the Region the team placed ninth overall with Tommy Brown and Tony Johnson going on to States because of their fine performances in Regionals. As a result of tremendous talent and effort, Tommy Brown received the outstanding Wrestler award. Bubba Fridley was awarded the outstanding J.V. Wrestler. Both J.V. and Varsity Wrestling teams put forth tremendous effort throughout the season.

Spirited Squads

The Manchester Cheerleaders had an eventful season this year. Though there were separate squads for basketball and football, most of the cheerleaders devoted their year to supporting both sports. Their spirit showed through at every game, and they never quit cheering. The Varsity Squad was led by captains, Melanie Abernathy and Jeanine Burkeen, while the J.V.'s captains were Crystal Connell and Natalie Evans.

The cheerleaders were successful in planning many pep rallies. These rallies gave a spirited student body the chance to cheer on their basketball teams to many victories. Cheering for both the girls' and boys' basketball teams kept the cheerleaders extremely busy, yet a group of cheerleaders managed to attend all of the games.

Alicia Felici, a Spanish foreign exchange student, joined the Varsity cheerleaders as the basketball season mascot.

MAKING HEADLINES WITH THE COMMUNIQUE

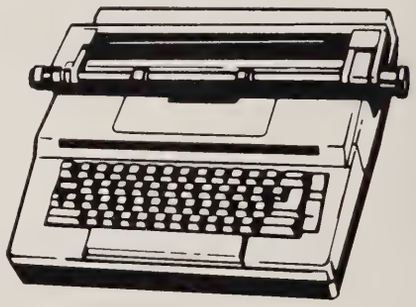
Drats! Caught in the act again.

With a very energetic and supportive staff, Manchester's revived newspaper, The Communique, rocks!

Manchester welcomed the return of its school newspaper, The Communique, this spring after a long absence. Following a continuous decline since the printing of a controversial poll in 1976, the paper was ended in 1984. Bringing it back was hard work because it is no longer supported financially by the county.

However, a group of determined students, sponsored by Mrs. Ellen Seay Young, decided to try. In their Journalism I class, the Communique staff learned the fundamentals of writing for newspapers. They were taught how to write good leads, feature stories, and editorials. Working with computers was another challenging task.

To raise money, the staff sold candy and sponsored a very successful After Exam Jam. All in all, the Communique staff has proven itself to be very diligent and hard working in its endeavors to keep alive a respectful Manchester tradition.



Express Yourself: Brush 'n' Canvas

The Art Club at Manchester acts as a service organization, raising money through art poster sales, handmade jewelry sales, and other artistic pursuits. The profit from these projects is designated to go towards a scholarship for a dedicated senior planning to pursue an education and ultimately, a career in art.

The club is accessible to all students, and a part of its purpose is to encourage art within the student body by not restricting the club to students currently enrolled in art classes. The result has been a diverse community of students dedicated to art as a medium of expression as well as a way in which to discuss the current issues surrounding the art world with a supportive, yet challenging group.

Other clubs and individuals frequently call upon the Art Club's services. For example, each year the club collaborates with the SCA in the Thanksgiving/Christmas food drive to benefit those who are less fortunate. Furthermore, Mrs. Riggs, Manchester's fashion merchandising teacher, had the Art Club create silhouettes and various decor for their annual fashion show. In addition to helping other clubs and individuals, the Art Club provides an opportunity for artists within the school to display their talents through periodical student shows and the Fine Arts Festival.

S.A.D.D. — Get the Message

S.A.D.D. is an organization that works hard to support its philosophy — that of promoting highway safety.

This club got off to a good start by winning first place in the Homecoming parade for its float. Also, it sent Blair Woosley and Matt Saufley to the Thalhimers' fashion show.

The biggest challenge was planning the "Celebrate Life" campaign, which involved activities during the week before prom. This included wearing S.A.D.D. shirts, handing out red carnations, and giving out keychains and contracts to prevent drunk driving. The week ended with a person in MHS "dying" every five minutes — shown by a painted face.

SIMPLY THE BEST

The Chorus Department has been extremely industrious preparing the students for an award-winning season. Members of Capital Swing and their parents helped prepare for the Central Virginia Show Choir Invitational which was judged by directors and a choreographer. At the North Carolina Show Choir Invitational, Manchester's group was named Grand Champion and the group with the most outstanding vocal quality. During the District III Choral Festival, Capital Swing, the Madrigal singers, the dance singers, Mixed Chorus, and the Girls' Show Choir all received superior ratings. The Chorus Department and the students have worked hard and performed well, much to the pleasure of the audiences they entertain.

The Madrigal singers as you've never seen them before! Don't worry, they only look like this once a year — at their annual Madrigals Dinner.

The Girls' Show Choir really know how to make the stage sizzle!

When are they going to bring out the roast pig?

Members of Capital Swing proudly pose with one of their many trophies.

Mixed Chorus enchants the audience with beautiful songs and beautiful voices.

MORE THAN JUST A CLUB

The SCA provided the school and community with many hours of hard work and dedication. Organizing Homecoming events, members put on a wonderful dance that all students enjoyed. They also sponsored Adopt-A-Family during the holiday seasons. Students were urged to bring in canned goods, toys, and clothing. An overwhelming response provided several families with much needed supplies. Teacher appreciation day was also a great success; activities included a laminated "things-to-do" list, hug-a-teacher day, and a free windshield washing. Continuing to be a vital element in Manchester and its community, the SCA also helped in efforts to find blood donors during the drive. Senior Leadership Day gave seniors the rare opportunity to assume the responsibilities of teachers, administrators, and the maintenance staff. The students learned that these people spend a great deal of time preparing lessons, dealing with emergency situations, and coping with the responsibility of providing a safe environment for the students.

IT'S A SMALL WORLD AFTER ALL

When in the Latin Club, the next best thing to Rome, do as the Romans do. This seemed to be the motto behind the year's activities. First, club members got reacquainted during a delicious back-to-school pizza party. One of the biggest events was the trip to the Virginia Art Museum's Greek Icon Exhibit. Afterwards, the group tasted traditional food at a Greek restaurant. Also, the Saturnalia Banquet was quite a success. Led by Peter Smith, the Latin Club contributed to the beautification of the school by landscaping it with flowers. Working outside in the hot sun was hard but definitely worth it.

Anyone for a "fiesta?" Well, join the Spanish Club. Members enjoyed sampling Spanish food during the initiation banquet. However, the group also got involved in the community. Members participated in "Adopt-A-Family" during the holiday season and collected towels for the Good Samaritan Inn. In February, the club visited Chippenham Manor to write valentine cards for the residents. Hard efforts were rewarded with meals at La Siesta and Chili's. Officers who helped make the year a success were Aisha Bailey, President; Elsa Jimenez, Vice-President; Susannah Hoy, Secretary; Mark Thompson, Treasurer; and Melissa Johnson, Historian/Reporter.

Bonjour! Greetings from the French Club. The members raised money for the club by selling their "famous" gourmet lollipops, which students eagerly sought out. The club also participated in "Adopt-A-Family" during Thanksgiving and Christmas. To further their knowledge in the language and promote friendly competition, members played French Academic Trivia. The French Club helped welcome spring with an Easter Egg Hunt. The group is also responsible for sponsoring the French National Honor Society. This year's activities were led by Bitsy Little and John Bell.

RECOGNIZING ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The National Honor Society is an organization which creates enthusiasm for scholarship, stimulates a desire to render service, promotes leadership, and developes character in Manchester's students.

During an impressive ceremony in the fall, new members were tapped into the organization. As junior Susannah Hoy stated, "Being inducted into NHS was an unforgettable honor in my life." The society also tutors students, participates in the SCA candy sale, and maintains the Honor Roll display case at the front office. In May an officer induction is held, and graduating members are honored upon receiving their collars. All members agree that NHS is a most memorable, worthwhile, and rewarding organization of which they could each be a part.

The high standards of NHS were upheld and reflected this year through the work of each member. However, the officers — Megan Lamb, Shannon Howe, Bengetta Harris, and Jennifer Thomas — led by president Latarnya Butts strengthened NHS's sense of direction. This year's activities have succeeded due to the guidance of Mrs. Breeden, the sponsor.

Membership is open to juniors and seniors who have a minimum cumulative scholastic average of 3.6 and participate in at least two activities.

The National French Honor Society honors those students who have excelled in French. A student must be in at least the second semester of French II, with all A's in the language.

The National Spanish Honor Society recognizes outstanding achievement in the language. To be in this organization, a student must have an A average after five or more semesters.

Preparing For the Future

The Future Homemakers of America has stayed busy this year. The club's numerous activities included the annual cake bake-off, in which many enjoyed the entries, and a Christmas party. Also participated in was the "Save-A-Sweetheart" program, a campaign to prevent smoking. The people making everything possible were President Angel Young, Vice-President Cathy Shelton, and Treasurer Tiffany Patton. The sponsors were Mrs. Tortorella and Mrs. Sidoti.

Another club providing information about the world outside of MHS is the Future Business Leaders of America. The future businessmen and women of FBLA planned a float, donated a cake to the faculty during Business Education Day, and sent students to competitions involving business skills. FBLA was led by Rebecca Cooke.

It takes more than spending time in a class to become a professional. That is why the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America are joined by concerned students. This year members participated in industrial-related field trips, an employer/employee banquet, conferences, and leadership and skill competitions. They are making a difference in themselves, the school, and the community.

Have you ever been cold? Well, Distributive Education Clubs of America cared about those who have by collecting over 190 coats for the needy. It also sponsored the intense Senior vs. Faculty Game and a card drive for a seven-year-old with a terminal brain tumor. DECA was led by Carolyn Atchison, President; Jeff Blevins, V-President; Zikrayat Issa, Historian; Mike Anderson, Parliamentarian; Tanya Blankenship, Secretary; Amie Rice, Trasurer.

KICKING SOME BRASS

For the past four years, MHS band director Steve Barton has been organizing the Marching Lancers, Symphonic Band, and Jazz Band with the help of the Band Boosters. After a highly successful season with the Marching Band and the first place auxillaries, success continued with winter and spring concerts and a prize-filled trip to Canada. Unfortunately, Mr. Barton must now say, "Goodbye" to the Seniors of 1990, those that were Freshmen when he took charge of the band program, including the drum majors and captains of the MHS Majorette and Flag squads.

GETTING IN STEP

The Manchester Marching Lancers, under the direction of Mr. Steve Barton, completed their most successful season in the fall. Drum Majors Susanna Kumpf and Chris Clark placed first and second in competition this year while leading their band to an excellent rating and two first places. Adding to the field show, the Color Guard including the outstanding Majorette, Flag, and Lancerette squads, placed first and received an excellent rating also. The auxiliaries were led by captains Kim Pope, Jessica Maerz, Amy Rice, and Deanna Taylor and co-captains Sharon Alley and Stacy Carper.

Continuing their newly established tradition, the marching band performed at a William and Mary football game. Moreover, these Lancers travelled to Canada to a parade competition resembling last year's success in Williamsburg. Indeed, it looks as though the past years of rebuilding, hard work, and dedication have and will continue to fructify.

JUST PLAYIN' AROUND

The Triptych Players had a great yeara, beginning with the annual initiation party held on Saturday, October 21 at Ted Ford's house. Drama Club officers assigned such costumes as Scooby Doo, Tonto, and the Pillsbury Doughboy; everyone present enjoyed participating in the traditional door-to-door scavenger hunt. The fall play, The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail, ran November 16, 17, and 18; it starred Aaron Dotson as Thoreau, Claudia Turner, and Carlton Reisa along with many other talented students. Arthur Miller's Death of a Salesman was the spring play and ran March 29, 30, and 31. Fine performances were exhibited by Chris Clark, Andrew Webber, Darci Teeten, and of course, Claudia and Aaron in their farewells to the Manchester stage. The Triptych Players would like to thank Mr. Goss and Mrs. Arbaugh for their support and guidance as well as the MHS faculty and student body for the enthusiastic responses which greeted each dramatic performance this year.

Mr. Goss: this is the genius behind the productions.

Roll With It

A typical yearbook jam session.

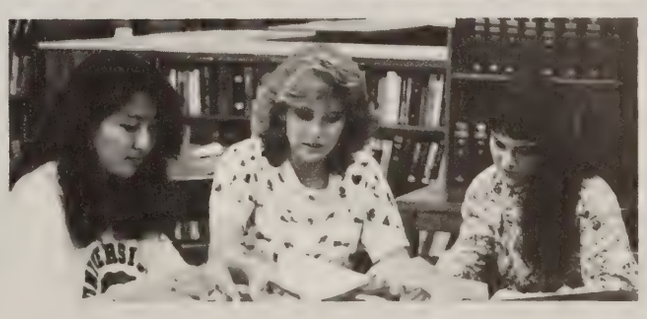
I'm gonna get this layout done even if it takes all night.

Junior Section Editor, Jennie Trout, was so engrossed in her task of digging through old spreads she didn't even have time to pose.

Did I remember to stick photo tags on the candid shots?

The staff of the Memoir is composed of hard working and dedicated students. The staff spent many hours and days after school cropping pictures, brainstorming catchy captions, and organizing deadlines. The roving photographers constantly searched for just the right pictures to capture the moment. Members of the staff must combine various skills to create a quality product that students will keep and refer back to after graduation. This is an important responsibility that the staff tackled with dedication.

Paurenia Boyd, Kim Pope, and Kim Bradham were the Co-Editors-in-Chief of the Memoir who provided hours of assistance and support for the staff. They handled the pressures of deadlines, meetings with the yearbook representative and the yearbook advisers, Mr. Pascarella and Mrs. Wilbourne, with zest. The staff appreciated their tenacity.



Gee! I'm tickled pink with my Yearbook Award!

Co-Editors Paurenia Boyd and Kim Bradham help Clubs Editor, Susannah Hoy, organize her layout.

The Memoir staff expresses its gratitude to the businesses and family members who show their support of this book.

Many area businesses extend their help to Manchester students. Ups 'N Downs aided the student's fashion show by lending clothes.

Rhyme@Rhythm

The community surrounding Manchester strongly supports the Lancers. Parents work at concession, in fund-raisers, and on transportation. A great deal of thanks is owed to parents involved in candy and fund-raiser sales and for their support of student activities and clubs. Area businesses provide employment opportunities and participate in activities with the students. One of those activities is the advertising section. A yearbook is a very expensive project, and business contributions help to keep the books affordable for a student's budget. So, when you go out of the school doors, please patron these establishments.

"A Psalm of Life"

What the Heart of the Young Man Said to the Psalmist

Tell me not, in mournful numbers,
  Life is but an empty dream! —
For the soul is dead that slumbers,
  And things are not what they seem

Life is real! Life is earnest!
  And the grave is not its goal;
Dust thou art, to dust returnest,
  Was not spoken of the soul.

Not enjoyment, and not sorrow,
  Is our destined end or way;
But to act, that each tomorrow
  Find us farther than today.

Art is long, and Time is fleeting,
  And our hearts, though stout and brave,
Still, like muffled drums, are beating
  Funeral marches to the grave.

In the world's broad field of battle,
  In the bivouac of Life,
Be not like dumb, driven cattle!
  Be a hero in the strife!

Trust no Future, howe'er pleasant!
  Let the dead Past bury its dead!
Act — act in the living Present!
  Heart within, and God o'erhead!

Lives of great men all remind us
  We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
  Footprints on the sands of time;

Footprints that perhaps another,
  Sailing o'er life's solemn main,
A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,
  Seeing, shall take heart again.

— Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

"The Tide Rises, The Tide Falls"

The tide rises, the tide falls,
The twilight darkens, the curlew calls;
Along the seasands damp and brown
the traveler hastens toward the town,
  And the tide rises, the tide falls.

Darkness settles on roofs and walls,
But the sea, the sea in the darkness calls;
The little waves, with their soft white hands,
Efface the footprints in the sands,
  And the tide rises, the tide falls.

The morning breaks; the steeds in their stalls
Stamp and neigh as the hostler calls;
The day returns, but nevermore
Returns the traveler to the shore,
  And the tide rises, the tide falls.

— Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

"Dream Variations"

To fling my arms wide
In some place of the sun,
To whirl and to dance
Till the white day is done.
Then rest at cool evening
Beneath a tall tree
While night comes on gently,
  Dark like me —
That is my dream!

To fling my arms wide
In the face of the sun,
Dance! Whirl! Whirl!
Till the quick day is done.
Rest at pale evening. . .
A tall, slim tree. . .
Night coming tenderly
  Black like me.

— Langston Hughes

"Nothing Gold Can Stay"

Nature's first green is gold,
Her hardest hue to hold,
Her early leaf's a flower;
But only so an hour.
Then leaf subsides to leaf.
So Eden sank to grief,
So dawn goes down today.
Nothing gold can stay.

— Robert Frost

Dreams of Life

"The Waking"

I wake to sleep, and take my waking slow.
I feel my fate in what I cannot fear.
I learn by going where I have to go.

We think by feeling. What is there to know?
I hear my being dance from ear to ear.
I wake to sleep, and take my waking slow.

Of those so close beside me, which are you?
God bless the ground! I shall walk softly there,
And learn by going where I have to go.

Light takes the Tree; but who can tell us how?
The lowly worm climbs up a winding stair;
I wake to sleep, and take my waking slow.

Great Nature has another thing to do
To you and me; so take the lively air,
And, lovely, learn by going where to go.

This shaking keeps me steady. I should know.
What falls away is always. And is near.
I wake to sleep, and take my waking slow.
I learn by going where I have to go.

— Theodore Roethke

"A Sound"

Elephant beaten with candy and little pops and chews all bolts and reckless rats, this is this.

— Gertrude Stein

"As Toilsome I Wandered Virginia's Woods"

As toilsome I wandered Virginia's woods,
To the music of rustling leaves kicked by my feet,
(for 'twas autumn,)
I marked at the foot of a tree the grave of a soldier;
Mortally wounded he and buried on the retreat, (easily all could I understand,)
The halt of a midday hour, when up! no time to lose — yet this sign left,
On a tablet scrawled and nailed on the tree by the grave,
Bold, cautious, true, and my loving comrade.

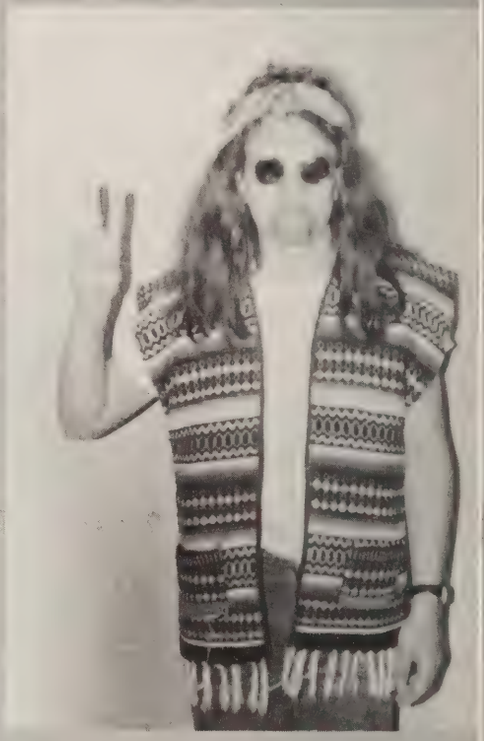
Long, long I muse, then on my way go wandering,
Many a changeful season to follow, and many a scene of life,
Yet at times through changeful season and scene, abrupt, alone, or in the crowded street,
Comes before me the unknown soldier's grave, comes the inscription rude in Virginia's woods,
Bold, cautious, true, and my loving comrade.

— Walt Whitman

GRASS ROOTS

Extra credit points will give a student the incentive to do almost anything. Thus, with that small token of inspiration, history, government, and civics classes all around the round building dove head-first into Sixties Dress-Up Day. Sporting tie-dies, mini skirts, and freaky hair, students earned those desirable points.

Are they rabbits or students? You decide.



Deanna Taylor makes a perfect flower child.

Cute, but is it possible to remove all of that from hair?

Aaron, it feels so strange to see you out of costume.

As usual, Matt is surrounded by friends.

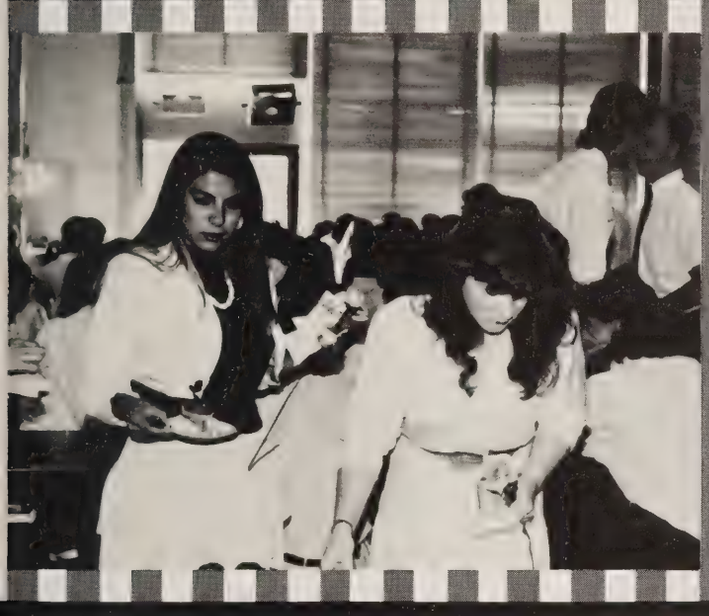
Contrasting costumes display the two different attitudes toward Vietnam.

PIGGING OUT

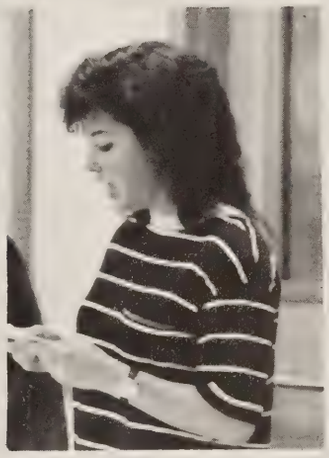
There is nothing like a little concentrated citric acid and sugar to start off your morning, and that is how the Class of 1990 began Friday, June 1. Thanks to the cafeteria staff, Seniors were able to enjoy a revitalizing breakfast and to renew some of the energy lost the previous night. After the orange juice fest, Seniors were lined up in preparation for the assembly. At least they would not have to worry about falling asleep.

Megan sure is having fun.

Anyone care for some table manners?



Michele and Dinorah decide to sample the muffins.



PEN IN HAND

This year, Quill and Scroll grew to epic proportions with the installation of almost twenty new members. Rising Juniors and Seniors and graduating members were inducted at a small surprise ceremony late in May. Unsuspecting joiners were swept from their sixth period classes for the petit swaré.

O.K., guys, what are we here for?

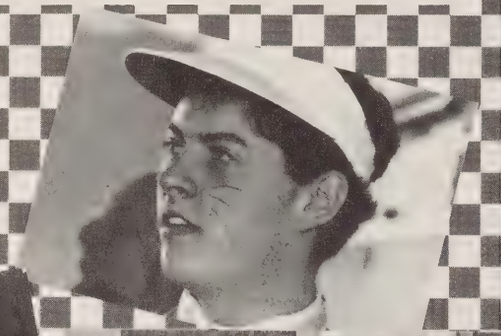
Bengetta Harris commences the ceremony.

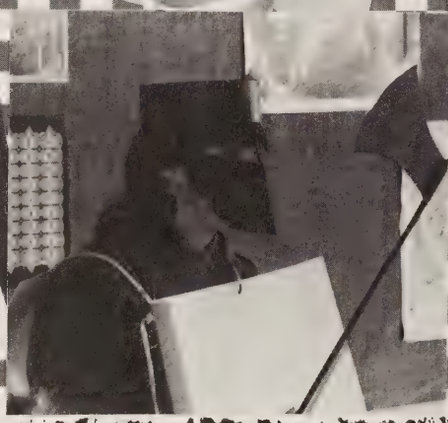
Kim Bradham presents flowers to the inductees.

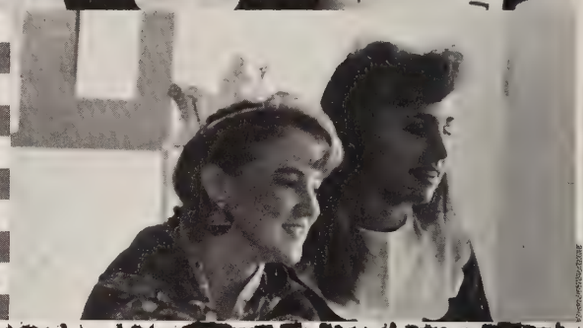
Here is a hint: the ones standing are getting into Quill and Scroll.

TEA TIME?

As a welcome to Wonderland, Mr. Goss' class received a grade on their creativity and originality by dressing up as a character from Alice in Wonderland. Before they could leave, all the characters had to re-enact the story. The seniors left Wonderland and entered the school hall "Through the Looking Glass."

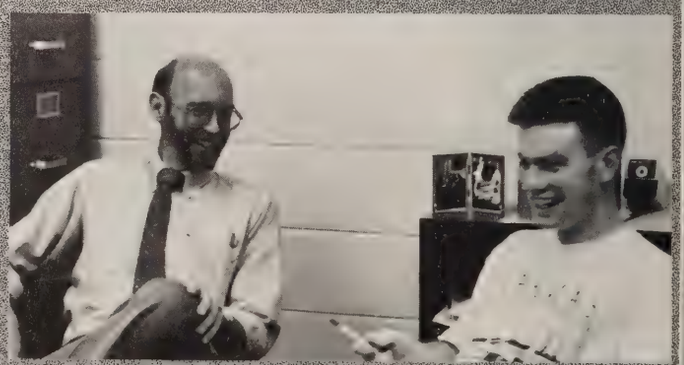






SENIORS IN CHARGE?!?

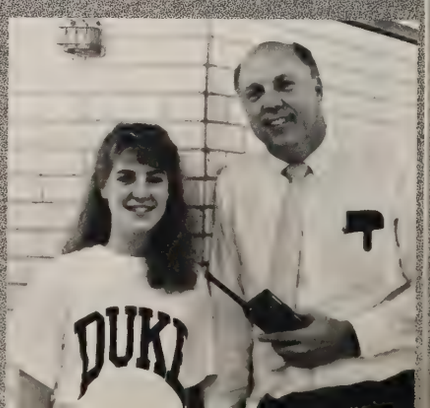
On April 27, Seniors had the opportunity to participate in Senior Leadership Day. On this day, students took on the roles of teachers, janitors, as well as administrators. While some students incorporated games into the lesson plan, other "teachers" gave quizzes and tests to their "students" (which they also had to grade). Thus, students were able to learn how difficult it actually is to assume all of the responsibilities that the Manchester faculty must face daily.



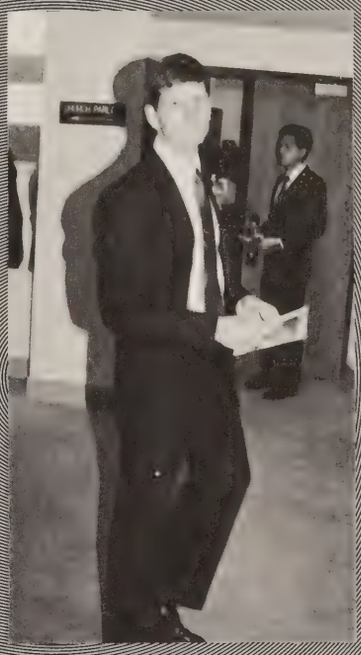
Dr. Olsen consults Assistant Principal Andy Woodfin on a disciplinary procedure.

Mr. Johnson looks on while Jennifer Thomas juggles the walkie-talkie and administrative business.

Principals Megan Lamb and Mr. Jones keep a sharp lookout as students rush to class.



Family members reunite after Baccalaureate is over.



Senior Class President Aaron Dotson and Mr. Jones confer over final details.

"My Spirit Sang All Day" — by the Madrigals.

Mr. Geary reviews his speech while waiting for the service to commence.

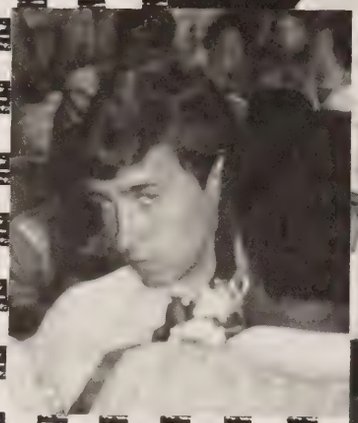
So, we wear our caps during the entire service?

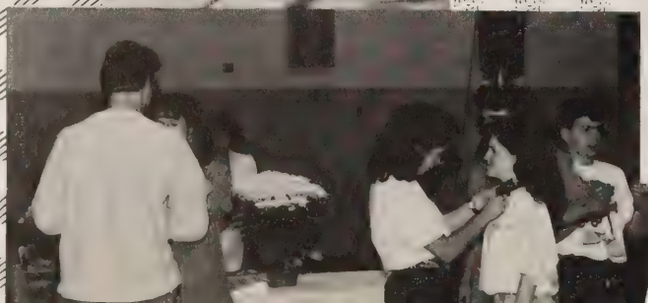
Laura Markham glances up at the camera as she leaves the church.

Victor Hoerst instructs the Junior Marshalls in the leading of the Processional.

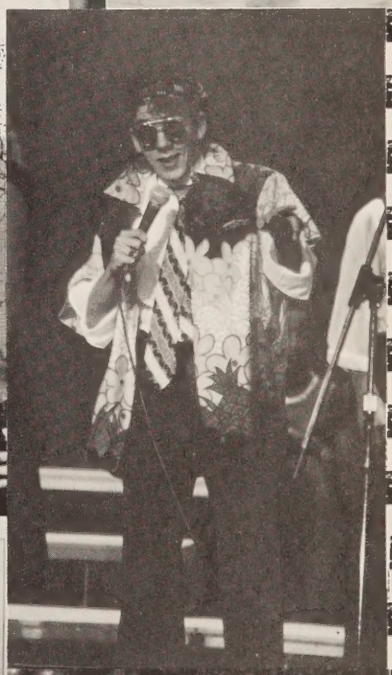
SENIOR PRAYER

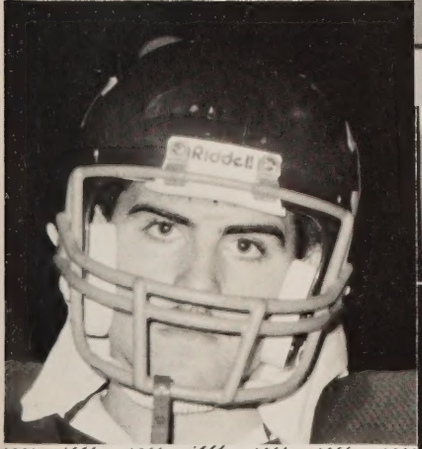
The date was June 10, one of the last times the Class of 1990 would be together. Baccalaureate was again held at Bethany Place Baptist Church with Reverend Thomas Sweat officiating. Chosen by the Senior class to give the Baccalaureate Address, Mr. Daniel Geary delivered a humorous yet inspirational message to the soon-to-be graduates. Services drew to a close as the Madrigals joined together for a final song and Reverend Sweat delivered the Benediction.

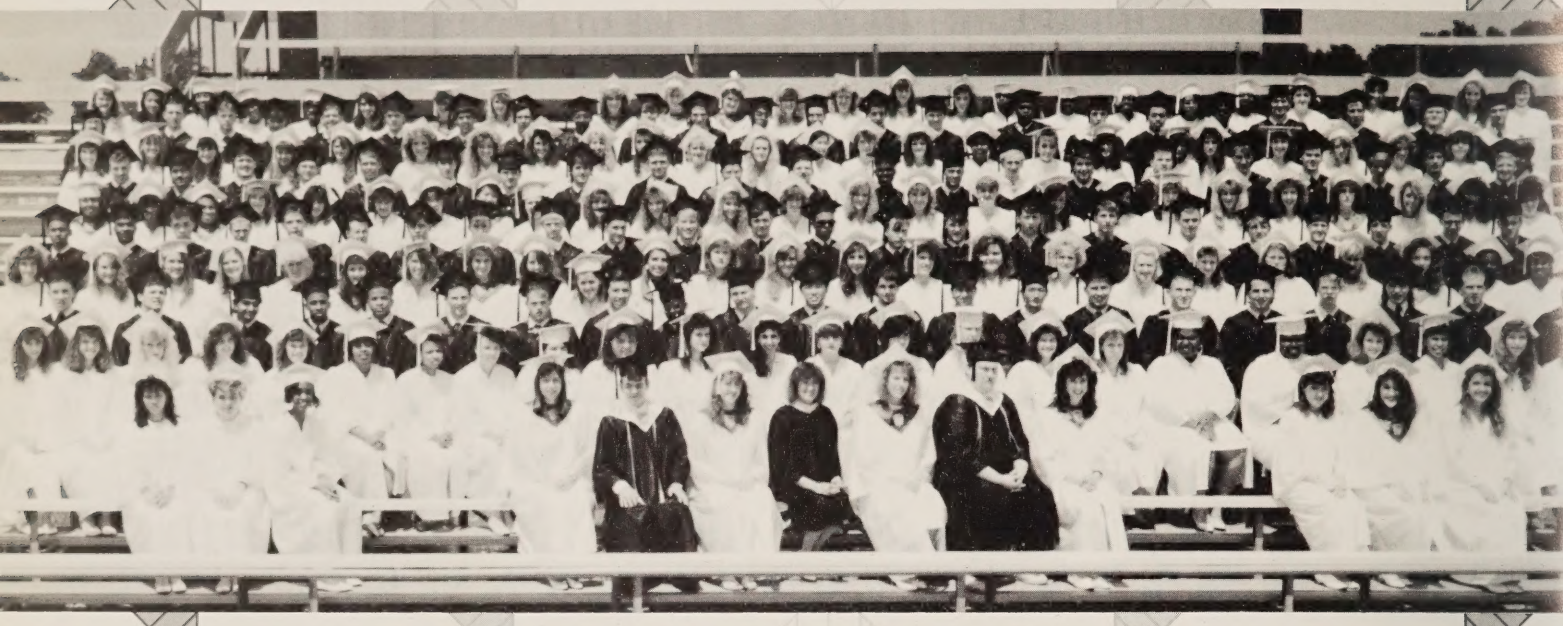




THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES







It's A Long Way

It's a long way the sea winds blow
Over the sea-plains blue,
But longer far has my heart to go
Before its dreams come true.

It's work we must, and love we must,
And do the best we may,
And take the hope of dreams in trust
To keep us day by day.

It's a long way the sea-winds blow —
But somewhere lies a shore —
Thus down the tide of Time shall flow
My dreams forevermore.
